PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNTY COMMISSIONsma.—At the regular digraal session of the County Commissioners, held yesterday mora-ing, orders were passed amounting in the aggregate to $30 49. Apart from this no business of importance was transacted.

LECTURES AT MORRIS CHAPEL.—Rev. Peter Cartwright will deliver three lectures, in Morris Chapel, Central-avenue, between Fourth and Fifth, on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings, of next week. The fame of the lecturer and the object for which the addresses are to be delivered—the benefit of the Young Men's Union of the Methodist Episcopal Church—will undoubtedly secure a large attendance.

The Salary of the Crief of Posice.—The Pelice Bill passed last winter provides that the Chief of the Police shall attend to the duties heretofore discharged by the Marshal, and also provides that a stated salary shall be paid for such services in State cases. The County Commissioners yesterday fixed the salary at $500 per annum, which makes the entire salary of Capt. Wilson, received from city and county, $2,000 per annum.

Roof of a Baider Tone off by the received a note from John Bennett, of Harrison Township, to the effect that a farge portion of the roof of the bridge over the Whitewater River, at Harrison, was blown off by the storm of Monday last. The County Engineer, in connection with Gen. McMakin, was instructed to examine the structure and report its condition to the Commissioners.

The Late Alleged Charge of Arson,—

THE LATE ALLEGED CHARGE OF ARSON,—Robert Whiten, who, as our readers probably remember, was arrested a day or two ago on a charge of firing the building on the corner of Central-avanue and Second-street, occupied by W. W. Hamer & Co., was before the Police Court yesterday morning and honorably acquitted, there being no testimony whatever which seemed to tend to his conviction.

A LITTLE GIRL RUN OVER AND NEARLY KILLED.—A little girl about four years of age, named Mary Hagman, whose parenta reside on Ludlow-street, near Pearl, was run over yesterday afternoon, by a dray. After medical aid had been summoned, it was discovered that her shoulder had been dislocated, and that she was suffering severely from internal injuries, which, in all probability, will confine her for some time, even if they should prove to be of such a nature as to admit of her recovery.

A HIGH COMPLIMENT TO CINCINNATI BY WOLLD-WIDE TRAVELER.—Bayard Taylor in his Pictures of California contributed to the last number of the New York Mercury, says, in speaking of the audiences to which he lectured in the Golden State: "A San Franlectured in the Golden State: "A San Francisco audience will compare in point of intelligence with any in the United States. Though not so genial as that of Cincinnati, (which is the ideal of an audience,) its critical sense is remarkably keen." This gratuitous opinion from an accurate judge of human nature, and a close observer of men and women, who has traveled to all parts of the world, is a compliment of which our citizens may justly feel proud.

Desperate Fight — Man Skriously Injured.—A difficulty occurred yesterday morning in a drinking saloon, near the head of Walnut-street, in which a man named John Wagner was seriously injured by a blow on the head, inflicted by an ale bottle. It appears that Wagner, who was partially intoxicated, spoke in a disreputable manner of a girl who resides in the house, when a young man, with whom she was quite intimate, struck him, thus giving rise to a row which soon became general, and resulted in the summary ejection of the party from the premises. Wagner's head was badly cut, and his face disfigured in a horrible manner by the beating he had received. One or two others were injured to some extent, but none of them seriously. The wounded man resides on Elder-street, to which place he was removed, where his wounds were dressed. Nowarrests were made. DESPERATE FIGHT - MAN SERIOUSLY IN-

GIRL DECOYED FROM THE HOME OF THE FRIENDLESS—ISFORMATION WANTED.—A few days ago a girl named Sallie Wilson who had been, for some time, under the care of those wingless angels, the managers of the Home of the Friendless, left that institution, taking with har a vanua girl the condition of whose of the Friendless, left that institution, taking with her a young girl, the condition of whose mind requires constant attention. The girl is young and without friends; but her character has heretofore been very good, and having an infirmity which rendered her unfit to care for herself, was placed in the charge of this institution. When the girl Wilson left it, she induced the other to accompany her, and no tidings have as yet been received of her whereabouts, although diligent search has been made. Any information concerning her will be received with gratitude by the managers.

Mork of the Brown County Poisoning Affair — Five Persons Drad.—We published some days ago an account of a poisoning affair near Fayetteville, Brown County, Ohio, by which, as we stated at that time, three persons had lost their lives. We have since learned that two others have died, making a total of five who have been poisoned to death learned that two others have died, making a total of five who have been poisoned to death by this unfortunate affair. The name of the family is Story, and a miller having for a long time suspected them of stealing his flour, and being unable to detect them, mixed some being unable to detect them, mixed some arsenic, in quite large quantities, in a bag of the article and determined to await the result. The entire family was simultaneously seized a short time afterward with emesis, and gave every symptom of having been poisoned. Their physician discovered the deadly mineral in the flour, and the mother of the family then confessed that she had atolen it. The reputation of these persons is said to be quite bad, and the affair, although it caused some excitement in the neighborhood, does not appear to have awakened any sympathy with the victims.

Sheaiff's sales of Real Estate.—The Sheriff's sales of real estate that took place yesterday morning in the rotunda of the Court-house was not largely attended, nor was the bidding remarkably spirited. Five pieces of property only were offered, of which two were sold, as follows:

Lot of ground in the addition to the town of Montgomery, laid off by Ludwig Weller, being No. 1 of said addition. Valued at $250, subject to a dower of $10 per annum, to be paid to Grace Cochran during her life. Sold to Cornelius Snyder for $167.

Lot in the City of Cincinnati, in square "P" of Wade, Dudley and Ludlow's subdivision, fronting 50 feet on the South side of Poplar-street and running South at right angles 175 feet to Oliver-street, together with the buildings thereon, excepting, however, the machinery therein contained. Valued at $4,000 for ground and improvements; sold to Maria Walker for $3,600.

Wood's THEATER. This cosy, comfortable

Wood's Trinares.—This cosy, comfortable and popular place of amisement last night was well filled with quies a brilliant and intellectual anti-ence. Mr. Booth's impresonation of "life literary Mortimer," was not good, however, and there were only occasional outburste of the power and fire we have heretofore wintessed in his performance. The part was not sustained or consistent, and the actor senset to be overcome by a kind of apathy from which he would arouse for an instant only to fall back into a state that evinced aimset a total wast of feeling. We have no idea of the cause of this apparent carelessness, and carnestly hope it may not become habitunt.

Westerns Female College—Merting of the Young Ladies' Lyceum of the Wesleyar Female College held one of their agreeable and entertaining meetings last evening in the Chapel of the Institute, on Vine-street, near Sixth. The audience was very large, the room being crowded to repletion, while many unable even to find standing room at the door, were compelled to leave.

The exercises were quite attractive and highly creditable both to the pupils and the ficulty. The following programme, interspersed with music, had been prepared for the entertainment of the friends of the Lyceum:

The glee-class appear to have attempted too much. Their choruses were admirably selected, but poorly executed—at least those which we heard. The choruses of Norma samed to us too heavy for the class, which which we heard. The choruses of Norma seemed to us too heavy for the class, which might produce a better effect by some lighter music. Altogether, the entertainment was quite good, and the audience left at the close evidently pleased with the manner in which it had spent the evening.

A RATHER AMBIGUOUS COMPLIMENT TO OUR POLICE FORCE.—Our evening cotemporary which seems to have taken our excellent police force under its protecting wings and daily fills a couple of its local columns with stupid paragraphs in regard to the triffer that develop themselves at the Police Court, in speaking of the quadri-centennial anniversary of the Young Men's Mercantile Library Association, pays this rather dubious compliment to the officers who happened to be in attendance at the Opera-house night before last:

"A large concourse assembled around the building, whose too impertinent curiosity was very properly and promptly checked by our excellent police, who put on their best looks, with their best clothes, for the occasion, and in one or two instances were mistaken for West Point Cadets, and gentlemen's sons."

We doubt very much whether the officers present upon the occasion referred to will mistake the above paragraph for an expression of approbation or esteem; but are inclined to the belief that they would prefer to be flattered in some other way than at the expense of their fathers. "Mistaken for gentlemen's sons!" The police force certainly never deserved such a remark from our cotemporary; for they never would have treated it in this manner.

Shakspeare as a dramatic writer in general, and his design in the construction of that seemingly paradoxical personage, the Prince of Denmark, in particular. The argument was directed to the question whether or not it was the intention of the author to represent "Hamlet" as actually insane, or as only feigning madness, the better to accomplish his designs of revenge—Mr. Murdoch adhering to the latter opinion. His remarks upon the highly sensitive and intellectual character of "Hamlet"—a nature just, rational and affectionate, but afflicted with an infirmity of the will. by which its active infirmity of the will, by which its active powers were paralyzed, were interesting and instructive; and he was listened to, through-

The receipts from the entertainment were in the neighborhood of four hundred dollars.

A MAN IN A FIT ALMOST TRAMPLED TO DEATH BY A HORSE.—A man named Philip Cameron, residing in Storrs Township, while currying a horse, yesterday morning, fell in an epileptic fit, during which the frightened animal, in his endeavors to get away, stepped upon bim two or three times, injuring him quite severely. Several of his ribs were broken and his face very badly crushed by the hoof of the horse, which finally broke his halter and escaped from the stable. The wounded man was discovered shortly afterward, speechless and half-deadfrom the combined effects of the fit and his lojuries.

STOLEN GOODS RECOVERED, -Our readers probably remember a statement made in the Press a few days since to the effect that the residence of James Gibbreath, on Sixth-street, near Cutter, was feloniously entered and robbed of silver-ware to the smount of $200. It now appears that the ware was plated, and not being quite as valuable as the burglars at first imagined it, they threw it into the river at the foot of Mill-street. Subsequently the river fell and the ware, half covered with mud, was yesterday recovered and returned to the for them owner.

Shocking revelations had been made concerning the coolie trade in Southern ports of Chipa. The information is derived from depositions of one hundred and five men taken from the coolie receiving ship. An inquiry was ordered by the allied commanders in chief, and it was found that in three coolie ships, two American and one Oldenburg bark, the coolies had been kidnapped, and a non-inal consent to eight years engagement in Cula was wrung from them by horrible modes of torture.

"We have been very strongly invited to make visits to the various fine plantations, but have only had time to go to that of Mr. Bull, whose house, called Ashley Hall, is one hundred and ninety six years old, and whose estate consists of some eleven hundred acres. He was very polite, and took us all through his fine garden on the banks of the Ashley River, which runs within ten or fifteen rods of the back of the house. Here, greatlive oaks and magnolias, red cedars and cypresses, tall pine trees and dogwood, which here grows to the size of an apple tree, and is covered with large white blossoms, are intermingled with the most beautiful flowers, which we can only cultivate in green houses. We went into the negroes' quarters, consisting of some twenty white washed cottages, containing generally one room, but of very good size, and on the doorsteps of one of them sat a negress one hundred and twenty five years old. She looked well, but seemed to have lost whatever sense she originally had, and as Mr. Bull told us, has for fifty years done nothing but sit in the sun as we found her.

As we came to the childrens' quarters, a confused scrambling took place and some ten or twelve little negroes vanished under one of the house which are raised on posts some three feet from the ground. One of the older ones was cooking the dinner of rice and vegetables, etc., in the open air. Everywhere within the high fence, inclosing a considerable space, and the cottages, belonged to the negroes, and they can sell the produce of their gardens or poultry yards to any one they choose. Nowhere have I seen any indication of that cruel treatment which is charged against slaveholders on the contrary they show a degree of indulgence toward the idleness and obstinacy of their servants at which our Northern friends would be much surprised.

A Rich Gold Field in New Zealand.
Gold is likely to become a drug, if its value is to be governed by the law of supply and demand. A new gold field has lately been discovered in the far off island of New Zealand, which bids fair to be one of the richest in the world. The particulars of this discovery were first made known by Dr. Hochstetter, Geologist of the Austrian Exploring Expedition, in a lecture delivered by him at Nelson, in New Zealand, and have since communicated to scientific bodies in Europe. It Washington, April 19.—The Tribune cor-respondence contains Mr. Buchanan's cele-brated letter of July 12, 1857, to Robert J. Walker, then Governor of Kansaa, with re-gard to the submission of the Lecompton Constitution to the people of Kansas, Mr. Buchanan says:

Constitution to the people of Kansas. Mr. Buchanan says:

"You may judge with what satisfaction we received an account of the proceedings of the National Democratic Convention, held at Lecompton on the 3d inst. The point on which your own success depends is the submission of the Constitution to the people of Kansas; and by the people I mean, and have no doubt you mean, the actual bona fide residents who have been long enough in the Territory to identify themselves with its fate. On this question of submitting the Constitution to the bona fide residents-of Kansas, I am willing to stand or fall. It is the principle of the Kansas-Nebraska Bill, the principle of popular sovereignty, and the principle of the foun-lar sovereignty, and the principle of the foun-dation of all popular governments. The more it is discussed, the stronger it will become. Should the Convention of Kansas adopt this principle, all will be settled harmoni-ously." aces a thickness of twenty feet, and "seems places a thickness of twenty feet, and "seems to be prepared in a gigantic manner by the hand of nature, from the detritus of the mountains, for the more detailed and minute operations of man." An examination of given quanties of the dirt or soil gave for the cubic yard from twenty-five to thirty shillings. When the earth has been washed from the surface the product would be less in proportion. With these data the following calculation has been made: Reckoning the gold field at thirty English square miles, and the product of the conglomerate containing the precious metal at about five shillings the cubic yard, its total value would be £22,500,000 sterling, or $112,500,000.

this principle, all will be settled harmoniously."

In another portion of this letter, Mr. Buchanan reiterates this doctrine, saying:

"I would advise you to make the great principle of the submission of the Constitution to the bons fide residents of Kansas conspicuously prominent. On this you will be irresistable—with the question of climate, every person is acquainted, and the more you insist upon that, the more will our opponents urge that we are violating the principles of non-interference at the foundation of the Kansas and Nebraska Bill."

Metternich's Theory on Insanity.

But to return to my conversation with Prince Metternich. He related to me several anecdotes of singular cases of insanity which he had met with when visiting lunatic asylums in company with Gall. They once saw two lovers in the same institution who had become deranged in consequence of a sudden and cruel separation. They no longer knew one another as objects of mutual affection, although they were constantly raving to be united. When brought together they acknowledged being acquainted, but each said the other was not the beloved one. Both were insane on this point. Poor creatures how different to the cherished image of former days each may have become in the other's eyes. have reported in favor of Mr. Howard against Mr. Cooper, the sitting member in the Michigan contested case. Messrs. Gartrell, Stevenson and Royce unite in the minority report. This completes the hundred days the liouse has been in actual session. There is no doubt from present indications that a quorum will be present during next week. As much, however, can not be said of the Senate. Many of its members have left the city. Nearly all the Republicans voted against the Senate's amendment, appropriating near one million dollars to enable the President to call into service a regiment of Texas mounted volunteers. Messrs, Carter, Curtiss, Junkin, Morris, of Penn., and Schwartz voted with the Damocrats and Southern Opposition in its favor. tures how different to the cherished image of former days each may have become in the other's eyes.

The Prince mentioned, too, the case of a distinguished mathematician, whose derangement consisted in his mistaking the number 5 for an 0 in all its calculations.

In speaking of periodical insanity and succine, the Prince told me that Gall considered all suicides to be insane. He related the case of a tailor, who had jumped into the Danube, and when rescued had told how an angel appeared to him and enticed him to apring off the bridge. He had heard of several instances of a similar explanation of their conduct having been given by suicides before their death. One was that of a woman who climbed upon the roof of a house and then jumped off. She became collected before she died and related how an angel had suddenly appeared to her and enticed her upon the roof. When there he hovered before her, and so allured her that in attempting to reach him she fell to the ground.

In cases of monomania, the Prince considered it as strong evidence of the Gall's system; and in all cases of insanity he was convinced that the brain was either primarily or indirectly affected by bodily disease.

He told me that it had been proved in Paris

New York Cattle Market.

New York Cattle Market.

Wednesday's Tribune observes concerning the New York Cattle market:

The market opened in gloomy weather, with gloomy forebodings on the part of the cattle brokers. The drovers and some speculating owners of cattle lived upon hope until the market was fairly open and the temper of the butchers tried, and then hope fled, as it became evident that the market would not prove equal to what it was a week ago. There were 3,467 head of bullocks in the sale-yards, or within halling distance, and a few more rany be expected in addition to that number to-day, making a total for this week a market somewhat larger in number than last week, and on the average considerably heavier. It is the general opinion of cattle brokers that the opening day of the market this week was not as good for owners by an average of half a cent a pound as last week. Very few of the best bullocks were sold at over 9½c, net a pound, and many that went off at that were estimated at extremely liberal weights for the buyer. Our own opinion is, that the market this week will prove about the hardest one for drovers that they have met with in the year 1850. There were a good many cattle sold yesterday, for the shrewdest of the salesmen seemed disposed to push off their stock at the best prices they could obtain. From the indications, we believe that the report of the market, which will be printed to-morrow, will show fewer cattle sold at 10c, net a pound than any report printed for years.
